STRICTUR'S NOT JUSTIFIED

Well Fitted for Their Butles. High Praise for Wheeler-Denounced as an Attack Calculated to Injure This Country.

New York, June 6.—Richard Harding Davis writes from Tampa to the Herald as follows:

as follows:

"The utmost indignation has been zwakened here today by an article attacking the Regular Army, which appears in the current number of an illustrated weekly paper. It is doubtful if anything has appeared in print since the beginning of the war, in even the yellow journals, so unAmerican, so untrue, or so calculated to give courage to the enemy. The article is by Mr. Poultney Bigelow, who, with the editor of the periodical, is tonight universally condemned by every one who has been here a sufficiently long time to know that the statements as to the condition of our Army are absolutely false.

"Mr. Bigelow states that owing to the stinginess of the Government the health of the men here is seriously affected, that they are being treated worse than those of any Continental army—even that of

of any Continental army—even that of of any Continental army—even that of Spain—and that there is not a single regiment fit to take the field. The camp doctors, so Bigelow writes, are busy with men and officers suffering from dysentery. We hush this up all we can, but to do so altogether is impossible. "I asked Col. Pope, chief surgeon of the Fifth Army Corps, just what was the present health of the men, and he said: The sick list is only 2 per cent. This is less than one-half of the normal rate of 41-2 per cent. It is the healthlest Army in hisfory."

"That is the answer of the chief surgeon, who has been on duty here for six weeks, to Mr. Bigeloow, who was here four days and who says we are so anxious to hust up the truth. He also charges the Government with giving the men unseasona ble food.

"We are in the habit," he writes, "of pitying the soldiers of Europe. For down-right neglect I have seen nothing to beat the way the American is treated by Uncle Sam. There is a German military at-tache at Tampa, noting all those things, and what is conocealed from the Ameri-can people in the North is carefully sent to Europe."

"I happened to be talking the other day on this same subject to this same military attache, the Count von Goetzman, who said that the rations served our men here at Tampa were as good as those served to any Continental army, and that our men received them in much greater quantitity. So that is the answer of the German stache to Mr. Biscolor titly. So that is the answer of the German atrache to Mr. Bigelow.

"As to his most sensational charge, that there is not a single regiment here ready to take the field. I can best quote the commander-in-chief:

"There is not a regiment belonging to the Regular Army," said General Miles, that is not ready now to take the field and that has not been ready for morths.

that is not ready now to take the field and that has not been ready for months. Before war was declared I wished to concentrate the Army at Chickamatiga, but the Secretary of War was of the opinion that such a movement would be considered an act of war—that it would be a menace—so I told him that wherever the regiments were they were ready to move at the pressure of a button, and when war was finally declared they did move from the mountain countries, from the lake countries, from Montana, lowe and California. They moved like clockwork. They were equipped with everything—transportation, camp outfit and everything—and they are all ready and as fit today as they were then. I have never been so proud as I was yesterday, when I rode through the camps of the Fifth Army Corps and saw the manguificent condition and physical perfectness of our men. There is no army corps anywhere in the world that is better supplied with men and officers of courage, fortitude and intelligence.

"I nat is the answer of the commander-in-chief to the editor of the periodical and

"Perhaps the most unwarranted and un-kind paragraph in the article is the at-tack upon the ability of Gen. Joseph Wheeler, who is, in Mr. Bigelow's opinion, too old to understand modern cavalry tactics. This he says of the most gallant cavalry leader of the Confederate army, the author of a book or a salry tactics, and a gentleman was also sudied and followed the changes in tactics nce the civil war.

Bigelow says that there has not Mr. Bigelow says that there has not been held at Tampa a single military field exercise likely to be of service to generals of brigade or division, and in another part of the same paper is a truth-telling photograph of Gen. Wheeler, commanding a big brigade of cavalry stretched out for miles in the woods back of Tampa.

"These brigade drills are frequent, and the insinuation that Gen. Wheeler does the insinuation that Gen. Wheeler does not understand them, and that he is too old for such service, is both false and cruel. There are two Southern major generals at present. We hear a great deal about one of them, and of his Pres-idential chances. Before the war is over we shall hear more if the kind.

That some official action will be taken in regard to this article is generally be-lieved. Every one knows that mistakes have been made and that the condition of the volunteers is bad, but this is no time to print news of such an ature, and it is certainly not the time now, or later, to print reckless and untrue statements concerning our Regular Army, "Mr. Frederick Remington, the war artist, who has collaborated with Mr. Bi tist, who has considered with Mr. Bige-low on several occasions in Russia and Algiers and Germany, said to me: 'I'm in the breeching with Bigelow. I won't pull with him again. Bigelow's not an

"The most curious fact about the pub lication of the article is that in another part of the paper containing it is an absolutely true and correct statement of the condition of the Army at Tampa, sent by Caspar Whitney, the accredited war cor-respondent of the paper, who says that there are 20,000 troops at Tampa ready to

The official opinion of the article may be gathered from the fact that Capt. Brady sent the following dispatch to Gen

Greely: "'Bigelow's article caused widespread condemnation among Army officers high in rank, and correspondents pronounced it untrue and seditious.'

So you have them all. The commander-so you have them all. The commander-in-chief repudiates it. The chief surgeon shows it is a falsehood, and even the war artist and war correspondents of the pa-per that published it repudiate it, too. Any editor who publishes it is liable to comprehend that it is the sort of treason that should be pointed out quickly and nailed up high as a warning."

Five sick soldiers were taken from the Fourteenth to the division hospital this morning.

Lieut. Frank H. Peck has been mustered in as second lieutenant of Company F. This appointment completes the commissioned force in the Ninth. Col. Greene's wife arrived at the battlefield this afternoon. The health of the Ninth is excellent, though there is still some complaint from the boys that they do not

The Y. M. C. A. New York, June &-General O. O. Howard returned vesterday to this city after levoting two weeks to a tour of inspection of the various camps in the South. friends and families find the association tents a great convenience.

The religious part of the work of the Young Men's Christian-Association is kept entirely apart from the social end, and the meetings are held in the open outside the tents so that the soldiers can remain inside and continue their letter writing or social amusements without having to make way for the religious meetings, which are held several times each day General Howard spoke at many meetings while on his tour of the camps, and speaks enthusiastically of the good work which is being done by the association. He cited entitions astronged to the good work which is being done by the association. He cited the case of one young man who, after the open air service, called upon him and stated that he had enlisted under an assumed name and wished to be entered on the rolls under his proper identity.

The abolishment of the camp canteen is the main purpose of the association, and it is believed that by establishing the so-cial tent the soldiers will pass their time when off duty in innoceat amusement, instead of hanging about the canteen. "There have been instances," he said "where some of the regiments have not been properly handled when they first arrived at the camp, but that has been more the fault of their own commissary departments than of the officer commanding the camp. I heard of one case where a colonel of a regiment called upon the commanding officer and stated that his men had been in camp for thirty-six hours and that no rations had been served to them. He was shown that the camp was and that no rations had been served to them. He was shown that the camp was plentifully supplied with provisions and that all he had to do was to make a requisition on the camp commissary to obtain all the provisions necessary."

Gen. Howard commented particularly upon the condition of the Pennsylvania and Ohio troops, and said that the work of association appeared to be received with due appreciation by the soldiers, who attended the meetings in great numbers and seemed to realize that a great effort was being made to iruprove their condition by supplying them with the smaller comforts which were not provided by the Army regulations. Gen. Howard may accompany the troops to Howard may accompany the troops to Cuba with his secretary, Major D. W. Whittle, who is still at the camp in Tam-pa.
